

For washing Dishes,
there's nothing like Pearline.
Why don't you begin the use of it in that way, if you're one of the timid sisters who still think that Pearline "eats the clothes?" Then you can soak things in it for a year or two, and test it in every way, until you become convinced that Pearline can't do any harm. But it won't eat your dishes, that's sure. It won't clog up the sink pipes, either, as soap does. And that cloudy effect that you've probably noticed on cut glass and china when it's washed with soap—that won't be there if you wash it with Pearline.

Send it Back
Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as"
or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back.

WIGGLESWORTH SPRINKLES.

At First the Machine Wouldn't Work
Afterward It Did.

"Oh, dear," complained Mrs. Wigglesworth, "it's so awfully dusty I can't keep the house clean a minute."

"Pooh!" commented Mr. Wigglesworth, with a man's enlarged view of housekeeping. "That's like a woman. Don't suppose you could ever bear to go to sprinkle the street. That's where your dust comes from. Wet the street down and you'd have a clean house enough. Any fool knows that. I've known it for years."

"But how can we sprinkle it?" she wondered, after deep cogitation.

"Why some anybody does, of course," explained Mr. Wigglesworth. "What'd you suppose? Think ye used a lawn mower? Waded a cross cut saw pro'bly—that's what most people use."

With an infinitude of this sort of talk did Mr. Wigglesworth lengthen the dinner hour. At evening he came perspiring home under the weight of some small rubber hose and a revolving lawn sprinkler.

"There!" he puffed, unloading his burden, "now we'll show ye how to keep clean."

Harrying through supper with less than his usual critical review of the biscuits, Mr. Wigglesworth hastened to the lawn.

"What is this iron thing with the crooked arms for?" his wife wanted to know.

"That's to wet the lawn with, of course," returned Mr. Wigglesworth, in a tone of importance. "What ye think I got it for—to bake bread with? Reckon it's for the hired girl to use in breaking dishes, don't you?"

To which oral accompaniment Mr. Wigglesworth busied himself with attaching the hose to the kitchen faucet and then making the other end fast to the sprinkler. It was an upright iron device, painted green, with four eccentrically branching arms of polished metal.

"Now, Emma," he called in a tone of authority, "ye let on the water in the kitchen, and I'll show ye something that'll surprise ye."

And that was what he did after the following manner, to wit:

Mrs. Wigglesworth attended to the kitchen faucet as directed and then ran hastily out to witness the display, but the fountain was damp.

"Why don't ye let on the water?" cried her husband testily.

"I did," answered Mrs. Wigglesworth. "Well, why don't the thing squirt then?" growled Mr. Wigglesworth, and he rushed down to have a look at it.

"Yah!" he snapped as he noticed the turn cock on the machine. "Don't ye know enough to let 'em all on at once? Spose water's going to squirt through a stone wall!"

With his usual precipitation he fetched a wrench at the cock, and the polished arms began whirling merrily. Mr. Wigglesworth, on his hands and knees, fell easily prey to the showering water.

"Yow!" he yelled, clutching about on all fours: "Shut her off! What ye doing? Get out!" But the swift revolving machine under full city pressure, distributed its streams with such liberal and diverse eccentricity that the blinded Wigglesworth was utterly unable to get free from it until his wife, rallying from her stupor, rushed to the kitchen and shut off the supply.

"What d ye do that for?" shrieked Mr. Wigglesworth, dragging his leaky person up the stoop. "Don't ya know anything in the world? Ain't ye got more sense than to go letting on that faucet 'fore I had time to turn on the machine?"

"You told me to," stammered Mrs. Wigglesworth.

"Told ye to!" snapped her husband trailing his watery course up the front stairs. "What's that got to do with it?"

Unable to combat the subtlety of this argument, Mrs. Wigglesworth contented herself with mopping up her husband's trail and running to the rumble of his utterances as he charged about the room above putting on some dry clothes. Hearing him coming down later, she discreetly withdrew into the pantry, while Mr. Wigglesworth went out on the lawn and kicked the polished arms off the sprinkler. Somewhat mollified by this transaction, he put a nozzle to the hose and fell to laying the dust in the street. There was something so pleasant in the singing of the water as it spurted through the nozzle and flung its refreshment upon the dried and powdery thoroughfare that Mr. Wigglesworth's nature softened.

"That's so," nodded Mr. Wigglesworth, wetting down a passing dog.

"When Moses in the wilderness—"

But before the minister could draw his parallel a fat-humored outfit dashed up the street. A stout, red-faced man was driving, and two beautiful women in light summer costumes sat at ease in the rear seat, appearing to great advantage. Mr. Wigglesworth had turned his head to attend the minister, and the red-faced man was within the circle of the watery stream before anybody realized what was the matter. He uttered a hoarse yell, natural enough to the occasion, whereat Mr. Wigglesworth turned hastily, with just enough agitation to direct his stream into the rear seat, where he had the summer costumes wet down in less than two seconds.

With another roar the red faced man was over the wheel. The minister, in the interest of peace, stared forward. The red-faced man came roaring up the stream of water which Mr. Wigglesworth, in a dazed manner, kept steadily plowing, and his eyes blinded, seized the minister by the collar, and shrinking and spluttering they both went rolling under the carriage, while Mr. Wigglesworth, petrified with horror, stood and soaked the water into them as they fought.

"That's the way I always get served when I do things for ye," he growled as they were locking up the house for the night. "I didn't know who that man was till the policeman got him stood up and we'd washed him off, and then it turned out to be old Wetherbee. He's on my note," Mr. Wigglesworth added gloomily. "I wanted to renew it next week." "But I feel worse about Dr. Fyfthill," moaned Mrs. Wigglesworth.

"He did get an awful soaking," Mr. Wigglesworth grinned.

"And a Presbyterian minister at that," added Mrs. Wigglesworth, taking down her back hair.—W. O. Fuller, Jr., in New York Recorder.

A SPECIALIST'S VIEWS.

OBSCURE AILMENTS THAT AFFECT HUMANITY.

An Eminent Specialist's Idea on the Kidneys, and Their Uses—How They Purify the Blood and Keep us in Health.

Curing the Kidneys Makes Us Well When We are Sick.

We are often sick and don't know what is the matter with us.

It is probably our kidneys.

We lose our strength and ambition, suffer from headache, dizziness, sallow complexion, nervousness, etc.

We need new blood.

We don't get it, because our kidneys are sick.

If we cured our kidneys we would get new blood, new health, new strength, because it is our kidneys that purify our blood.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure the kidneys.

They contain a concentrated extract of the Asparagus found in no other medicine or prescription, and made only under a special process by the Hobb's Medicine Co.

This extract of Asparagus is what makes Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills so successful.

A well known physician, D. William Watson Hinsh, made a careful and thorough test of Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills in his practice.

Here is his report on the results:—

WILLIAM WATSON HINSH, M. D.
330 Chicago Opera House Block
Chicago, July 20, 1895.

Hobb's MEDICINE Co.

GENTLEMEN:—I afford you an unqualified pleasure to report that after having at your solicitation tried the Sparagus Kidney Pills, which you have recently introduced to the profession, I am entirely satisfied with the results obtained.

As is well known, the kidneys are the principal excretory organs of the body, and I have long been satisfied that many of the obscure ailments which afflict humanity are traceable to kidneys which fail to properly perform their functions.

Until now I have tried and used with varying degrees of success, all the different remedies which are alleged to have a specific action upon the kidneys, but have never found anything that was entirely satisfactory until I began the use of Sparagus Kidney Pills.

I think you are to be congratulated upon having been able to produce a combination of remedies which have such a happy effect, and I take pleasure in recommending your pills to my brother practitioners, who, I am sure, will find in them a remedy that will fully meet the indications presented in all diseases of the kidneys, as well as in all diseases which owe their origin to, or which depend upon, an unhealthy condition or action of the kidneys.

Yours very truly,

W. W. HINSH.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure all kidney diseases and all diseases of the blood.

Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Congestion, etc., Rheumatism, Gout, Anemia, etc., can all be cured by Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

A few doses will relieve. But that is not all. A few boxes will cure.

And the best of it is that the cure will be permanent.

Sold by all druggists or mailed, prepaid, for fifty cents a box.

An interesting pamphlet mailed free on request. Address Hobb's Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and adds to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly securing the world's best products to be used, of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid adhesive principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

In excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectively cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation.

It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from very objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50 cent bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

But the conductor passed on without taking up his ticket.—Chicago Record.

For some minutes he worked his air pumps in silence. Suddenly a sound was heard at which Agatha grew deathly pale. It was the clear resonant note of a bicycle bell!

"We are pursued!" she cried. "Let us fly, Algernon."

"We cannot," said her practical lover, "the trees are almost empty. We can but meet our doom bravely!"

Louder and louder came the noise of whirling wheels. Then—a whirr, and the bare, breathless, pale with terror, went by them like a flash of lightning! Fitzclarence understood in a moment what had happened. The boy was but an unskillful rider and had allowed his machine to run away with him down the hill.

To stop him was impossible. He went along the highway for 32 miles, and then, with a last despairing yell, he vanished over the cliff, still seated on his steed and was buried beneath the waves of the English channel. So Fitzclarence and Agatha returned to the castle and lived happily ever after.—Punch.

THE ESCAPE.

How Lady Agatha and Her Lover Were Made Free.

"Grammercy?" quoth the Baron d'Aigencourt, as he rolled off his bicycle into a potato bed. "Tis a stiff mettled steed! Methinks the wretches have fed him with overmuch oil of late, so restive is he become. And, indeed, my doublet is besmirched with mud! Thou smilest, I see, Agatha. There is but scant reason for merriment, sir, unless up!"

"Nay," said the beautiful Lady Agatha, as with exquisitely skill she rode her daintily-bred thoroughbred Coveney—up and down the terrace. "Twas not thy misfortune, dear father. Of a truth it doth besoal Louise. Was not that thy perchance this afternoon? If I am, 'tis but that I can happy."

"Alumph!" said the baron as he hoped gallantly behind his machine, vainly endeavoring to mount anew. "Happy, eh? And wherefore? Whom hast thou seen to change thy mood so? This morning? 'Twas but a few hours ago that thou wast weeping over some trials of a split oil can. Ah, I am up at last!"

"I have seen none," said the lovely maiden, with blushing cheeks; "at least save only—" She hesitated doubtfully. "Whom girl?" insisted her father.

"Sir Algernon Fitzclarence."

With a desperate swerve the baron rode toward her. His face purple with passion. "What, thin hast chosen to disobey me again? Talking with him whom I had forbidden to come within 20 leagues of my castle? Now, by St. Hubert, both thou and he shall rue this day! I say, that!"

The baron's staff felled him once more, and he was shot off into the gossamer bush.

"Nay, bear me, dear father!"

"Cousin," roared the angry baron. "What ho, there! Lead the Lady Agatha, I command, as zo men ruied forward in answer to his summons, into the upper dungeon. And, verily, bring me the sticking plaster!"

And when they called us down from the pile of baggage we were sadder, quieted men.—Truth.

The Drama.

"Horatio," whispered the heroine, "the villain still pursues us."

"Hal!" exclaimed the lover. "But fear not. See then the ravine that intervenes between us and him!"

"Yes, Horatio, but the bridge. He can cross upon bridge at board."

"Fear not, I say. He has got to stop in the middle of the bridge and do a song and dance. Courage!"—Detroit Tribune.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THEY DESPISED THEM.

Men Who Didn't Believe In Childish Antics.

When the strangers from Europe arrive in New York about a quarter of an hour is needed to calm present into dock. During this time the passengers crowd upon the deck and indulge in tumultuous shoutings and squabbles to their friend who line the walls.

I was standing the other day upon the forward deck of an immigrant steamer. My companion was a man whose acquaintance I had made roaming over—a dry-goods fellow, no, it's given to finding amusement in the foibles of his fellow passengers. He found me in the crowd as we came up the harbor. "Say," he said, "you've no one to meet you, have you?" I told him I had not.

"Neither have I," he said. "Let's go on deck and watch these people go crazy. It's a regular circus."

We stood there watching the passengers shout and scream and wave their hats to the people on the shore.

"There's trouble afoot," said he.

"What a fuss they make! Dash it, I don't think no one ever so much as dreamt before to see the way they go on. Look at that infernal kid," he continued, pointing to a tall and wavy young fellow who was dancing madly on the wharf. "See him! sling his arms round; he's d—d fool about. Egad, you'd think the man knew me! What's wrong with him, any way? Can't he—get out? Come on, I'll show you."

I stood there indulging in a quiet laugh at the expense of my cynical friend, when I chanced to look into the crowd and my eye caught sight of Tom, dear old Tom! All the way from Brooklyn to meet me—whoo-p!

And when they called us down from the pile of baggage we were sadder, quieted men.—Truth.

MORGAN AND SALISBURY.

The Senator Defends His Attitude on the Beiring Sea Dispute.

LIVINGSTON, Ala., Nov. 15.—Senator John T. Morgan in an interview in regard to Lord Salisbury's claim that Senator Morgan's opposition to the payment of the Beiring sea claims is based on a misapprehension of facts, said:

"After a very rough examination of the facts presented in the case of the two governments, sponsored on either side by the testimony of more than 1,000 witnesses and the entire diplomatic correspondence of the governments concerning this subject, and after listening to the great lawyers who appeared before the tribunal, one for either side, and which occupied more than four months at the time, it is not likely that any member of that tribunal was less informed than Lord Salisbury as to the facts in the case. His lordship doubtless supposes that his information of the facts in this case is quite superior to mine, otherwise he would not attribute to me the grave error of a mistaken conception of the facts."

"Evidently he concedes that if I am right in my statement of the facts he must be wrong in claiming that the United States owes Great Britain $25,000,000 for depredations committed upon British ships found pouncing upon the seal herds of the Beiring sea, when the record shows that more than half of the sum claimed as damages, if due at all, is due to citizens of the United States who violated the laws of their own country by marauding upon our own seal herds under the cover and shelter of the British.

"If I should be wrong in uniting with Mr. Bayard and Mr. Blaine in the opinion that this marauding by British subjects was contrary to public morality and international comity, I think I cannot be wrong in denouncing this conduct of American citizens, under cover of the British flag, as being of close kin to piracy, and I cannot be wrong in denouncing the shelter the British flag gave to their people as being an act of arrogance which scarcely concealed hostile intentions. I am unable to perceive why the United States government should reward the perpetrators of this base conduct, or should compliment the government of Great Britain by conceding that it was either just or honorable."

A Desperate Sailor Overpowered.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 15.—While the schooner Ruth Ann was lying off the Marblehead coast a Norwegian sailor known by the name of Pete attacked one of the crew with a revolver. A scuffle ensued, in which the entire crew took part and overpowered the frantic man. He stepped back and opened fire into the crew, and the first to fall was the captain, Adam Konna. The next shot took effect in the leg of Joe Konna, a son of the captain. Pete was in turn shot by another son of the captain, but was not seriously injured. He was bound to the mast and the marshal of Sandusky summoned, who took him in charge. The captain and injured members of the crew are at the Marine hospital at Sandusky.

GEORGE H. THOMPSON, - Editors

C. MACARDELL, JR., - BUSINESS MANAGER

FRIDAY, NOV. 15, 1895.

The Herald is urging the business men of New York city to make an organized effort to secure the Democratic National Convention, next year.

The Buffalo Times very truthfully says that in the next presidential campaign the Democrats are not likely to encounter the dangers that spring from overconfidence.

Senators Higgins and Mullins have declared that if Coggeshall goes into the Republican caucus they go out. The Democratic Senators are not hankering for his presence in their councils and it looks as if he would have to "flock by himself."

In Dutchess county, a number of ballots were returned as "marked for identification." The county canvassers submitted them to Judge Barnard and asked what should be done about them. The judge ordered them all counted.

The quarterly dividends just paid by the Fall River cotton mills average two and a half per cent, and all the mills made large additions to their surplus funds which are maintained for extraordinary repairs, renewals of machinery and other purposes. When over ten per cent. a year can be earned by cotton mills it does not look as if that industry had been very seriously affected by Democratic tariff reform.

Gov. Morton will have much patronage at his disposal, this winter, the terms of many Democratic officials expiring during the session of the Legislature. Among the more important offices to be filled are: Superintendent of Banks, three State Assessors, Commissioner of Agriculture, Factory Inspector, three members of the Board of Mediation and Arbitration, Commissioner of Labor Statistics and Superintendent of the Onondaga Salt Springs. The patronage attached to some of these offices is very considerable, the Banking Superintendent having the appointment of thirty-two examiners and clerks and the Dairy Commissioner of ten Assistant Commissioners and many experts.

COURT PROCEEDINGS

Plaintiffs Fare Badly, Yesterday—No suits and Verdicts of No Cause of Action.

The first case tried, yesterday, was that of Reuben E. Munson, of Port Jervis, vs. St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co., to recover $1,800 on stock of goods in his store. Plaintiff failed to prove that the goods were damaged, and a non suit was granted.

Jas. Horton vs. L. Bates & Son, of Newburgh. Action to recover $2,000 for loss of flag cut off by a planer, while working in defendant's carpenter shop. Non-suit granted on the ground that plaintiff took the risk of injury when he went to work on the planer.

Mervin E. Pinder vs. Hinckley Brewing Company. Suit was brought to recover $1,700, the value of a saloon in this city sold under chattel mortgage and bid in by defendant for $200. Plaintiff claimed that the mortgage under which the sale was made had been satisfied and that the sale was illegal. Verdict, no cause of action.

James Brown vs. John Duff. Parties are Newburgh contractors and plaintiff claimed $420 for work done on the Campion piano factory. Defendant claimed that Mr. Campion ought to pay the money and the jury took this view and rendered a verdict of no cause of action.

Thomas Harrington vs. Newburgh Electric Railroad. Suit to recover $2,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained in alighting from a car. Case still on.

Newburgh Liverman Assigns.

Mr. S. Dimmick Brink, a Newburgh Liverman, has made an assignment to Henry Kohl. A peculiarity of this assignment is that the total liabilities are less than $500 and there are assets enough to pay 100 cents on the dollar if disposed of at their real value.

It is Known By Its Cures

It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit.

The thousands of people whom it has raised from disease and despair to happiness and health, are the strongest and best advertisements Hood's Sarsaparilla has. No other preparation in existence has such a record of wonderful cures.

This is why Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sale, and requires for its production the largest laboratory in the world.

Now if you need a good medicine, why not try that which has done others so much good. Remember

HYMENEAL.

Watson—Lamont.

Miss Inez, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lamont, was united in marriage at 7:30 o'clock, last evening, at her home, No. 11 Myrtle avenue, to Mr. Richard W. Watson, of Preston, Wayne County, Pa.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Robinson, of the First Congregational Church, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends.

The bridegroom was Miss Eva Lamont, sister of the bride, and the usher was Mr. Burton Lamont, brother of the bride, and Mr. Edwin Jakely. Miss Bessie Lamont, of Thompson, Susquehanna County, Pa., a cousin of the bride, officiated at the piano. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of light green silk, crepon trimmings with white chiffon and satin ribbons.

The bridesmaid wore a green silk dress trimmed with silk crepon, pink chiffon and ribbons.

After the ceremony the happy couple received the congratulations of those present and an excellent supper was served by Caterer Hassbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson left on Erie train 3, for a short trip through the western part of the State, after which they will reside at the beautiful home of the groom, who is a prosperous young farmer in Wayne County, Pa.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly wedding gifts, among them being a ring given to the bride by her mother. The ring contained five diamonds, which were formerly set with twenty-two others in a large brooch, which belonged to the bride's great grandmother. The heirloom has been in the family for more than one hundred years.

Mrs. Watson has a large circle of friends, who congratulate her upon her selection of a husband, but who will regret her departure from Middletown.

Among the guests present were Mrs. Filewood, wife of Dr. Filewood, of Susquehanna, Pa.; Miss Minnie McKee and Fred McKee, of Como, Pa., and Miss Bessie Lamont, of Thompson, Pa.

Clark—Purvis.

Mr. William Wells Clark and Miss Alvidia, daughter of Assessor Samuel S. Purvis, were united in marriage at the home of the bride at 6 o'clock, last evening.

There were present about seventy-five guests who were either relatives or intimate friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank A. Heath, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The parlors were very handsomely decorated by Belding.

Miss May Purvis, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and Mr. Charles Buck was the best man. The ushers were Messrs. H. B. Hawkins and Lewis Buck.

As the bridal party entered the parlors Mr. W. J. Stevens played the wedding march from Lohengrin. The happy couple stood during the ceremony in front of a bank of palms.

After the marriage and congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Clark led the way to the dining room, where a fine wedding supper was served by Mrs. Cavanaugh. Mr. Stevens played the Mendelssohn march as the guests filed into the dining room.

The bride was gowned in white satin with veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Her going away dress was of brown cloth with velvet trimmings, with hat to match.

The maid of honor wore a dress of white silk covered with pink chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

The bride was the recipient of many very handsome and useful presents.

After supper Mr. and Mrs. Clark were driven to the O. and W. depot and took train 6 for New York. A special car on the electric road had been chartered by friends of Mr. and Mrs. Clark and it carried them to the Wickham avenue depot, where they gave the bride and groom a "send off," that they will probably remember all their lives.

On the back of the seat occupied by them was a card bearing this inscription: "Just married—don't mind them," and a card announcing that there was a bridal party on board was nailed on the outside of the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark have the very best wishes of the Argus for their future happiness and prosperity.

And Now They're Married.

William L. Xfield and Miss Heidt, of Jeffersonville, Sullivan county, were to have been married two months ago, but though the wedding guests assembled and the bride donned her bridal robes the brid-groom came not. His courage had failed him and he had fled. Last week he returned, was forgiven by Miss Heidt and, Monday night, they were married by Rev. John Kamm, of Jeffersonville.

REORGANIZED ERIC.

Certificate of Incorporation of the New Company Filed—Officers Elected.

A certificate of incorporation of the Erie Railroad Company was filed in Albany and New York, yesterday, by the purchasers at the recent foreclosure sale of the property of the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad.

The temporary Board of Directors named in the certificate of incorporation consists of Trupple Bowdoin, C. H. Coaster, J. H. Emanuel, Jr., A. H. Gilard, A. B. Hooper, Thomas W. Joyce, Walter S. Kenney, J. P. Morgan, Jr., Francis Lynda Stetson, Morimer F. Smith, W. S. Townsend, J. H. Tierney and E. B. Thomas.

The Board met, yesterday afternoon, in New York and took the necessary steps to organize. It elected these officers:

President—Eben B. Thomas.

Third Vice-President—Andrew Donaldson.

Fourth Vice-President—G. G. Cochran.

Secretary—J. A. Middleton.

Treasurer—Edward White.

The new company will own and operate not only the Erie lines, but also the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio and Chicago and Erie.

The capital of the new company is $146,000,000. The organization tax paid on this capital is $182,500, the largest amount ever paid in this State by one corporation at one time.

THE ERIE RAILROAD CO.

The New Name Selected for the Reorganized Company.

The Erie Railroad Co. is the name given in the certificate of incorporation of the company organized as a result of the foreclosure sale of the Erie road. Originally the New York and Erie, the road, after its first reorganization, became the Erie Railway, and after its second reorganization, the New York, Lake Erie and Western. The new name is the best that could have been chosen, for it is the name by which the road has always been known in popular speech.

WORK OF THE GRAND JURY.

Five Indictments Found Against Priests in Custody.

The Grand Jury completed its work, yesterday. Just what it did is not known, beyond the fact that it found the following indictments against persons in custody:

Winfield Kingsley, assault in the first degree, for shooting a man named Garner in Goshen.

Wilbur Bragg, arrested in this city, forgery in the second degree.

Theodore Halsey, attempt to commit burglary at Reeva & Kelsey's store in Goshen.

Edward Benjamin, of Newburgh, assault in the second degree. Benjamin has escaped from custody more than once and Under Sheriff Howell has been warned to take more ordinary care of him.

Martin Reilly, of Newburgh, robbery in the second degree, for robbing a man near the Quassaick creek bridge a few weeks ago.

It is understood that more indictments were found. The indicted prisoners were to be arraigned later in the week to plead.

Indictments were not found against George Rogers, the boy charged with robbing the Erie station at Howells; Josephine Volante, charged with attempting suicide; Richard Herten, charged with kidnapping; Clarence Stoll, of Port Jervis, charged with larceny; David Livers, Alfred Bates, Charles Flynn, Walter McClellan, Robert Clark and Edward G. Loreux.

CANVASSING THE VOTE.

Now the Canvassers Earn Their $3 a Day—Some Long Rides to Secure Corrections of the Returns.

GOSHEN, Nov. 14.—One can form but a slight idea of the amount of work done by a Board of Canvassers from the reports which reach the newspapers. In fact one must be a member of the body itself to appreciate the fact that the canvassers earn every cent they get. Take for instance the case of the Supervisor from Warwick who this morning was compelled to drive from his home at Lawton over the Warwick mountains to Greenwood Lake and from thence back to Warwick, Florida and Goshen in order that an error in the returns from the Greenwood Lake district of his town might be corrected by the inspectors of that district. For the same purpose Supervisor Goodsell, of Highlands, was compelled to make a trip of a score of miles, and the day was not a pleasant one either.

In the Board, where the canvassing is done, some of the returns from some of the election districts would make life miserable for the ordinary mortal, but canvassers are made of sterner stuff and they go bravely to work and plow through yard of figures and an acre of returned ballots. One of the returns, this year, contained seven pounds of paper and ink.

This morning, the Board was called to order at 10:30 o'clock. Assessor W. E. McWilliams, of Middletown, was sworn to act for Mr. Boyd, who was unable to be present. His first duty was to take the next trolley back to Middletown to have one of the returns corrected.

The canvas sheet is now about ready and the day was spent in committee work. It is expected that the work will be completed Friday.

On motion of Mr. Adams, the Board adjourned until 10:30, Friday morning.

CHARLES BACKMAN TO RETIRE.

The Stony Ford Trotters Will be Sold Next Month.

It will cause surprise and regret among trotting horse men to learn that the time-honored Stony Ford trotting stud is to be disbanded. Mr. Charles Backman, its founder and owner, has bespoken a place for the first installment of eighty head in the sale to be held by Peter O. Kellogg & Co., at Madison Square Garden the first week in December. The remainder of the horses will be sold a few weeks later, and this famous breeding stud will have become a thing of the past.

Unless it be Woodburn Farm in Kentucky, no other trotting stud has left as marked an impress upon the stock of the country. Its famous bands of brood mares by American Star, Harry Clay, and Hambletonian were the envy of all other breeding establishments during the later sixties and until the earlier eighties. Probably its most famous brood mare was Green Mountain Maid, and the great horse, her son, Electioneer. The latter established the success of the great Paul Alto stud in California. But hundreds of other horses bred at Stony Ford have added to the trotting wealth of the country.

OBSTRUCTIONS ON THE O AND W.S. TRACK.

Ties Placed in the Way of Passenger Trains Near Cook's Falls.

Ties were placed on the O. and W. track near Cook's Falls, Tuesday afternoon, for the supposed purpose of wrecking trains 1 and 2. Train 1, however, knocked the obstructions from the track and a section hand removed that in the way of train 2. Two young sons of John Edwards and a tramp who was with them were arrested. The tramp put the blame on the boys and was discharged. After he had gone the boys said that he suggested obstructing the track and helped to place the ties on it.

Eric Cars Robbed Near This City—The Smoky Recovered.

Two cars of extra Erie train 271, were broken open while the train was running between Middletown and White Bridge, Wednesday, and a quantity of silverware and several boxes of other merchandise were thrown out. The robbery was discovered at White Bridge, where the train made its first stop. A train that followed picked up the stolen goods.

Killed by an O. and W. Train.

The body of a man, afterwards identified as that of Henry Kurty, of Liberty Falls, was found about 11 o'clock, Wednesday night, on the O. and W. track, opposite the creamery at Liberty. The man's watch had stopped at 8:07, indicating that he had been struck by the night line or the Sullivan county express.

Must Not Pollute the Wallkill.

The Sparks Manufacturing Company at Hamburgh, N. J., has obtained from Vice Consul Pitney a permanent injunction forbidding the Sterling Iron and Zinc Company from polluting the water of the Wallkill with discolored water from its mines.

WURTSBORO.

Many Matters and Incidents Briefly Told in a Matter-of-Fact Way. Correspondence Angus and MERCURY.

—Mrs. Joseph Clark and family have moved to Ellenville.

—Mr. Frank F. Holmes has gone to Warwick and started in the retail grocery business. We wish him deserved success.

—Mrs. Israel Budd has purchased of Dr. C. W. Piper the house and lot occupied by J. S. Dubois.

—J. S. Dubois, wagon maker, has purchased of Dr. C. W. Piper, the shop he has occupied for the past eighteen months and is building an addition of equal size on the west side. The entire second floor will be finished off to living apartments, where he will reside with his family.

The lower floor of the addition will form a commodious shop for carriage and other painting.

—Dr. Piper has added another porch to his handsome residence.

—Mrs. Wm. Reiner and child have removed to New York, where Mr. Reiner is engaged in business.

—Miss Mollie McGuire is visiting friends in New York city and Brooklyn.

—Dr. Geo. Beers, of East Eleventh street, New York, has been rustinating at the Dorrance House. He is an enthusiastic sportsman, a gentleman and an excellent physician.

—Will Stanton's new brick mansion is rapidly rising heavenward on Kingston avenue.

—Jackson Terwilliger and family have moved into the Hinchliffe Hotel.

—It is rumored that our "painter and landscape gardener" is soon to take unto himself a better half from Woodbourne.

—John Olcott has reshingled his large barn on Kingster avenue and J. V. Masten has built a new fence in front of the "Gospel Tent" lot.

—Joseph Reach, who was recently granted a patent on a horseshoe nail clincher, has perfected arrangements for their manufacture on a large scale, and has a quantity on hand. Inquiries are coming in from all parts of the country. The advertising end of the business is now receiving attention.

—John V. Doss has given up his confectionery store and removed to Daniel Howell's farm.

—Among those on the sick list are Misses Mary McElroy and Nellie Clark.

—Mrs. Joseph Strachan, of Brooklyn, has been visiting her brother, Frank Griswold, at George H. Schoonmaker's.

—Mrs. C. G. Bennett is visiting her son, William, at Kingston, N. Y.

—Potatoes and apples may be had here for thirty-five cents per bushel.

—Rev. A. A. Smith, Gen. Barney, and P. E. Grant and families, of the Sullivan County Club, have returned to their city homes. Several families yet remain there.

—Miss Hattie Benedict has obtained a lucrative post at Stamford, Conn.

—Dan Dougherty is home from Wilbur, N. Y., where he has been employed.

—Those wishing a 10x12 inch photograph of the Wurtsboro Bird taken at Middletown, firemen's parade day, can order the same at Bedford's confectionery store. Price fifty cents each.

Middletown visitors noticed on Sunday, were: Misses Alice Reiley, Maggie and Ella McNamee and M. Moore, all of the State Hospital. We also saw Frank M. Dineen and Gen. H. Phillips, of the North End.

—Will Leigh, of Middletown, spends his Sundays at his home near Haven.

—Miss Belle Smith, of Maple Grove, is learning dressmaking with Mrs. Washburn, modiste.

—Miss Kate A. Chales, of Haverhill, died, Sunday morning, Nov. 3, of typhoid fever, aged twenty-seven years. Deceased leaves mother and several brothers and a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. The funeral was held at St. Joseph's Church, Wurtsboro, on Tuesday, Nov. 5th, at 10:30 a.m. High mass was celebrated by Father O'Connell.

—Part of our canal force are employed at Foulwood Pond, deepening the channel to the bulkhead.

—Rev. D. T. Harris, of the Reformed Church, has been transferred to a pastorate at Germantown, near Port Jervis, where a church is to be built. He delivered his farewell sermon Sunday morning. The M. E. Church services were omitted, the congregation attending the Reformed Church services. His three years' pastorate here has been highly successful. May his good work continue in his new field.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Report of Inspector General McLeewe—Much Praise and Some Criticism.

The report of Inspector General McLeewe shows that the strength of the national guard of the State, at the time of the last muster, was: Cavalry, 141; signal corps, 100; artillery, 418; infantry, 11,985; naval militia, 413; total, 13,066.

General McLeewe reports the guard, as a whole, in excellent condition but certain organizations are freely and sharply criticized.

THE EPISCOPAL MISSION AT COESTER.

Rev. David Evans will conduct services, Sunday afternoon, in the Episcopal mission in Coester. The mission was established by Rev. W. E. Marion, of St. James Church, Cohoes, who, when he left that parish, estranged with Rev. Mr. Duryea to continue the services. Mr. Duryea's health does not permit him to take the service now and for the present, at least, the mission will be in Mr. Evans' charge.

—Cedarrh can be successfully treated only by purifying the blood, and the one true blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla.
